Systems Analysis and Development Graduate | Aspiring Back-End Developer | Currently Studying JavaScript | Passionate About Backend Technologies and Continuous Learning

Dublin, Condado de Dublin, Irlanda

Resumo

✓ Open networker

I am a Systems Analysis and Development graduate with a strong interest in transitioning into a Back-End Developer role.

Currently, I am focusing on studying JavaScript, CSS, and HTML and exploring other backend and frontend technologies. My background in logistics and supply chain has honed my problem-solving and analytical skills, which I am eager to apply in the tech industry.

I am committed to continuous learning and am excited about opportunities to contribute to innovative development projects.

Let's connect! I am open to internships, entry-level positions, and opportunities to collaborate on projects within the front and back-end development field.
